Literacy Policy

Approved by Governors: May 2023
Policy renewal: May 2024

“Language is the prime medium through which pupils learn and express themselves across the curriculum, and all teachers have a stake in effective literacy.”

In the context of this document the term “literacy” is used to embrace all aspects of language development – reading, writing and oracy.

Introduction

Literacy is one of the fundamental elements of learning. It concerns the way pupil’s access and interact with every kind of written text. High standards of literacy lead to success, both at school and in adult life. Maghull High School is committed to raising standards of literacy in order to raise standards and attainment across the curriculum. We recognise that the development of literacy skills is an entitlement for all pupils and the responsibility of the whole school community. These skills are crucial in enabling our pupils to cope with the demands of examinations, higher education and future employment. The Literacy Policy should be embedded in good learning and teaching practices within every department. All elements of the school’s policy should be reflected across the curriculum, build on the strengths of existing practices and procedures, and reflect the needs of every pupil.

Maghull High School recognises that:

- pupils need vocabulary, expression and organisational control to cope with the cognitive demands of different subjects
- reading helps pupils to learn from sources beyond their immediate experience
- writing helps pupils to sustain and order thought
- language helps pupils to reflect on, revise and evaluate the things they do, and to reflect on and evaluate the things others have said, written or done
- responding to higher order questions encourages the development of thinking skills and enquiry
- improving literacy and learning will impact on pupils’ self-esteem, on motivation and behaviour
- improving literacy allows pupils to learn independently; it is empowering
- improving spoken literacy gives pupils confidence when interacting in formal contexts

Aim of the policy

For teachers to embed literacy, identifying specific opportunities to develop literacy and equipping all pupils with the necessary skills to make progress.

Objectives

- To ensure clarity of whole school systems and approaches to support the literacy of all pupils
- To ensure all staff understand their responsibilities in relation to literacy so that we can provide an enriching environment for our pupils
- To support the development of a curriculum which enables the improvement of academic language and voice in all subject areas so that pupils are equipped with the skills required for success at GCSE and beyond
- To implement a whole school approach to the encouragement, support and monitoring of literacy across the curriculum
- Maghull High School recognises that, for literacy to play an important role as a vital instrument of learning, teachers across all curriculum areas need to create an environment which provides contexts and conditions to facilitate the development of the core skills of speaking, listening, reading and writing

Responsibility for Literacy

All members of the school community are responsible for the promotion of literacy through high expectations of written and spoken literacy. All staff in school have a crucial role to play in developing pupils' academic and formal language whether through modelling Standard English in conversations with each other or teaching subject specific academic language in lessons.

Leadership of literacy

The SLT literacy lead will:

- oversee the effective deployment of the team
- ensure that all pupils are tested three times annually with Star Assessment
- ensure that appropriate intervention is implemented
- ensure that appropriate CPD is delivered

The Literacy Coordinator will

- support the delivery of the school's literacy policy
- work with departments to support the delivery of whole school literacy
- assist with literacy intervention work
- carry out termly audits of current practice
- collate and disseminate information pertaining to literacy

The wider school curriculum will be expected to promote literacy by:

- the accurate testing of reading ages of pupils across years 7-11 three times annually
- use of Lexia program, as well as additional small group teacher interventions for those in receipt of catch up premium funding
- monitoring of our Accelerated Reader scheme at KS3 to engage all pupils in reading
- the provision of regular library time in and out of school for pupils and ensuring that the library is central to the success of the Literacy Policy through departmental input into the library
- enrichment activities through the library to encourage a love of reading promoting reading for pleasure
- the use of morning tutorial for reading for pleasure, DEAR (Drop Everything And Read) time across key stage 3 lessons, and coverage of literacy within the PD curriculum
- celebrating pupils' achievements in literacy across Maghull High School
- encouraging parents to take an active role in the promotion of reading
- use of performance and critical oracy to develop critical language skills
- explicit teaching of vocabulary, including word of the week

In all subject areas, the organisation of lessons will aim to improve the literacy skills of pupils by:

- demonstrating to pupils the extent to which literacy skills are valued
- encouraging and reinforcing consistent standards of language use in pupils that is appropriate to their ability and maturity

- ensuring that pupils acquire a level of literacy that will enable them to cope with the increasing demands of subjects in terms of specific skills, knowledge and understanding
- providing a range of materials to support the subject topic
- increasingly providing texts at appropriate levels for all pupils (the layout, size and clarity of print, length of sentences and vocabulary appropriate to pupils)
- providing materials which are up to date and attractive
- designing activities that focus on identified subject vocabulary
- plan for inclusion of DEAR (Drop Everything And Read) time across key stage 3
- follow whole-school disciplinary reading strategies (see appendix C)

Each department will:

- emphasise the central importance of literacy in the teaching and learning of individual subjects
- identify and monitor the integration of literacy skills in the development of Schemes of Learning relating to each subject area, including subject specific vocabulary and tier two vocabulary
- create subject specific key words to be displayed in department areas and on SharePoint
- provide a range of practical strategies to encourage the development of literacy e.g. wall displays, subject specific spelling lists, clear labelling, and provision of dictionaries, good quality worksheets and board work, information that supports literacy on SharePoint
- seek to identify progression in the main forms of speaking, listening, reading and writing undertaken in each subject area and strengthen teaching plans accordingly
- ensure progression in Information literacy skills, including skimming and scanning skills, through Schemes of Learning
- adhere to the literacy marking symbols (see Appendix A)
- share good practice by exhibiting or exemplifying pupils' work
- regularly evaluate the strengths and weaknesses in pupils' work and identify literacy cross-curricular priorities for each year group

In all subjects, teachers will aim to improve the literacy skills of pupils by:

Learning Through Talk – Oracy skills Maghull High School:

- model effective examples of successful speaking and listening for pupils, showing them how to use language precisely and coherently
- accentuate the differences between standard English and non-standard dialect forms and modelling appropriate language in the classroom
- Place explicit value on oral work as well as written work recognising that discussion of topics is usually an essential precursor to any written work Teach pupils how to participate orally in groups and in the whole class, including:
  - using talk to develop and clarify ideas
  - identifying the main points to arise from a discussion
  - listening for a specific purpose
  - discussion and evaluation
- Structure tasks in lessons so that pupils know the purpose for their listening, providing note-taking frames as appropriate

- Provide pupils with the opportunity for public speaking in a formal setting such as in lessons and through debating competitions

Learning Through Reading - Comprehension Maghull High School:

- promote reading for pleasure
- show pupils disciplinary reading strategies to help them to (see Appendix C):
  - read with greater understanding, enabling pupils to infer and deduce meanings and recognise the writer's intentions
  - skim and scan to locate and use information
  - follow a process or argument
  - give opportunities to practise sifting, selecting information and taking notes from texts
  - develop the ability to summarise
  - synthesise and adapt what they learn from their reading
- review and monitor the reading demands placed upon pupils in each subject area, ensuring that reading for understanding is explicitly taught
- ensure that a variety of differentiated reading texts are available to help develop the reading skills of all pupils. Ensure these are at appropriate levels and are linked with Star Reading, where applicable provide opportunities to research and investigate from printed words, moving images and ICT texts
- ensure that pupil texts are suitably challenging to encourage inferential reading skills
- ensure that pupils understand the purpose of texts - whether the text being used is informative or explanatory or instructional or discursive, or persuasive or descriptive and consequently which reading skills are appropriate to use with the written materials provided
- reinforce the understanding of subject-specific words and terms and tier two vocabulary
- encourage wider reading and independent reading in a variety of forms including newspapers, books and magazines
- act from the belief that reading cannot be an acceptable barrier to learning

Learning Through Writing Maghull High School:

- write in a wide variety of forms for different audience e.g. Letter, report, newspaper article, journal etc. and for different purposes for each piece of writing e.g. to interpret, evaluate, explain, analyse and explore consider all major writing tasks in terms of purpose, audience and form, and teach the most appropriate skills to meet the requirements of the task
- carefully craft writing from sentence level
- use a modelling process to make explicit to pupils how to write
- make connections between pupils' reading and writing, so that pupils have clear models for their writing
- set high expectations in terms of presentation using accurate punctuation, correct spelling, Standard English and legible handwriting
- review Schemes of Learning and signpost different non-fiction text types.
- encourage pupils to develop good planning, drafting and editing skills
- provide generous opportunities for sustained writing
- ensure that communications around the school and internally are correctly spelt and punctuated
- teach the relevant ways of paragraphing writing and linking paragraphs

In addition, in order to enhance spelling, each department will:

- revise key vocabulary
- teach agreed learning strategies which will help pupils to learn subject spelling lists
- test or revise high frequency words regularly
- set personal spelling targets
- encourage pupils to correct and learn their spelling mistakes

Assessment

There is an expectation that all teachers within the school will provide feedback on literacy skills using the literacy marking symbols (see Appendix A). For each class, every opportunity should be taken to ensure that:

- literacy assessment is used to inform lesson planning and target setting, and to maintain the pace of learning for all pupils
- grammar, punctuation and spelling errors are marked and pupils encouraged in correcting their mistakes
- the criteria for written and discussion based work in terms of tone, style, conventions, audience and structure are shared and discussed
- where appropriate, literacy objectives will be embedded into lessons

Monitoring, Evaluation and Review

- all staff have a responsibility to reflect on their own practice in promoting the importance of literacy through their teaching and marking
- each department will be issued with a checklist of methods that they could draw upon to promote literacy. This can be used to assess current schemes of learning and identify further opportunities for incorporating the teaching of literacy (see Appendix B)
- those in leadership positions have a further responsibility to ensure the policy is properly implemented in their specific areas
- the effectiveness and implementation of this policy will be reviewed by SLT and middle leaders during quality assurance processes
- literacy will be evaluated through whole school self-evaluation reviews calendared throughout the year, incorporating lesson observations and work scrutiny

APPENDIX A: Literacy marking Symbols

Symbol	What it means	What you need to do sp	The circled or underlined word is spelled incorrectly.	Find out the correct spelling of the word and correct the error in your book. Write out the correct spelling three times.
p	Either punctuation is missing, or is being used incorrectly.	Identify what the error is and correct it. Check through the rest of your work to see if you have repeated the mistake.
c	A capital letter is missing, or is being used inaccurately.	Correct the error.
//	A paragraph break is needed here.	Start a new paragraph when your writing changes focus. Check the rest of your work to see if you have paragraphed correctly.
we was ~~~~~	Grammatical error, such as verb or tense disagreement – or the sentence does not make sense.	Correct the error by making sure you are using the right verb form, or re-write the sentence so it makes sense.

APPENDIX C: DISCIPLINARY READING STRATEGIES

Aim: to reduce cognitive load by following the same consistent approaches to develop the reading skills of all of our students.

1. Pre-reading strategies
2. Skimming and scanning
3. Questioning
4. Summarising

1. Pre-reading strategies: front-loading meaning

- Activate prior knowledge

Ask questions or set tasks which encourage students to recall the necessary information to them to access the material.

- Pre-teach vocabulary

Identify the key vocabulary (tier two and three) which will hinder the meaning of the texts. Explicitly teach students the meaning.

Tier 1: Basic vocabulary

Tier 2: High frequency/multiple meanings

Tier 3: Subject specific

2. Skimming and scanning

- Skimming

Teach students to skim read the text for gist. Students need to feel comfortable doing this.

Monitor understanding by asking targeted questions.

- Scanning

Ask questions which focus on the key ideas in the text. Students should be taught how to scan the text for answers

3. Questioning

- Add depth to understanding

Ask students questions which enable them to develop their knowledge of the text. These questions should still be answered using information from the text.

- Create inferences using prior learning

Ask students questions which enable them to develop their knowledge of the text. These questions should encouraged students to think outside of the text (big ideas).

- Create links using knowledge from previous topics

Ask students questions which create links to previous knowledge to aid recall and improve their comprehension of the text.

4. Summarising

Students summarise the meaning of sections of the text to consolidate and elaborate upon their understanding. This causes students to focus on the key content, which in turn supports comprehension monitoring.
